What Should They Do?

The Old Masonic Hall building and a large lot in Whitesburg has belonged to the people of Letcher County for some years. It was bought by the County Board of Education with the expectation of being used for a dormitory in connection with the High School. The venture was never a profitable one and for several months it has occurred to the Board that the property should be sold and the money used for the benefit of the schools of the county. The property is valuable, being located in a beautiful spot overlooking the town. At present the money invested in it is idle, doing no one any good. The board together with Supt. Clark are very anxious to know what is best to do with the property, hold it or sell it. They want to know just what the people desire them to do with it. For one the Eagle thinks it should be sold for the best price possible. What do you think?

Will Publish Statement

Two qualified persons are now working on a statement that will show Letcher county's financial condition to Jan. 1, 1922. Soon as the statement can be gotten into shape it will be published. It is understood that the county's financial condition must be actually known before the county levy can be laid. Besides, the people are entitled to know how the county stands financially.

A True Thought

W. M. Morgan, Principal of the Finley, Okla. school, renewing his subscription says; "I am still plodding on thru life, trying to help others find themselves."

A beautiful thought is given in the above short expression. Thousands, perhaps millions of creatures, along life's highway, are trudging along unacquainted with themselves and need only the touch of a gentle hand or the striking of a single match to see their way or realize their capabilities. Few people in early life are able to know themselves or the latent power and ability they possess. The truth indeed is the basic purpose of the school and its head is to enable children as early as possible to find themselves; to learn of their hidden strength and how best to develop it along the proper lines. Thousands of children have been picked up from dirty paths and along filthy avenues, taken into different environments and moulded into models—rare gems. They possessed diamonds buried in the rough. The touch enabled the diamond to sparkle, ambition blazed in the heart and excelsior lit up the path leading to honor and true manliness.

IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS--

W H E N —

Uncle Moses Adams in 1812 crossed the Northfork at mouth of Pert Creek with his baby. Bill Tolson, in his arms, and built a little hut on the high ground just opposite the mouth of this little creek. He was one of the first of his family of Adams in this section. Some of his sons were, William, Isaac, Stephen and Henry. There were several girls but of the younger ones we only recall Vina, Margaret and Betsy. Aunt Vina, deceased, married Uncle Sam Blair, Margaret became the wife of the late Stephen Blair and Betsy was the wife of Tom Williams.

W H E N —

In 1806 or thereabouts Archelaus Craft, Archelaus Hammons, Benj. Adams, Benj. Webb and a few others crossed over the Pine, fell into the then unbroken forests of the headwaters of the Northfork, scattered themselves out along the various creeks and branches and began in the simplest way to start the campfires of a peculiar civilization, the greatest the world has ever known. These men and the big and brave women and girls that came with them were the highest types of old Virginia and North Carolina blood. Many of them had fired the guns of Liberty in the battles for Independence and knew well what it meant to beat back the savages and wild animals and clear the way for civilization. They were giants, compared to many of us, their descendants at this day. Benj. Adams started the big Adams families; Benj. Webb, the year following their arrival here, married Adams' daughter and from them sprang the big Webb families; Archelaus Craft married in the Hammons family and started all the Crafts in this section. The Hammons' spread out through the head waters of the Northfork sections not leaving a very extensive family, and thru intermarriage, became related to nearly all the first families, Jas. Collins, spoken of heretofore as a Methodist preacher, started the big family of Collins' in this country. Isaac Fields, the first of that name to come into this section, arrived about 1810 and started the big Fields' family, so well known in this county.

W H E N —

In 1879 the first printing outfit was brought from London, Ky., in a wagon and the Pound Gap Enterprise, the first newspaper, started. Tip Nickels and John Pearl, son of Judge Granville Pearl, were editors and owners. Pearl set the type, Bent Thompson was the devil and Nickels was the gentleman end of the business. The first issue actually created a sensation and people who had never seen a printing press and type rushed to town to take a peep. The paper was a four page-four column weekly and was full of home written local, correspondence and stirring sensation. Wonderful caves containing moonshine stills, eyeless fish and moss-grown pre-historic animals were written up. Jim Fitzpatrick, Henderson Prichard, Dr. Sam Breeding, Millard Collins, Dr. Frank Lindsay, Philip Hall and others dipped their pens in vivid pools of imagination and wrote the stories. They were not written to be believed, but some people after reading them thought they actually existed somewhere in the unexplored wild woods in the mountains. The Enterprise fumbled along for existence for about two years and after moving to Pikeville died a natural death. The next newspaper was the "Mountaineer," started by Riley Adams and a tramp printer by the name of Wells. This soon skedaddled into non-entity. From 1891 till 1905 it could scarcely be said there was a printing press in the county. In March of the latter year the Letcher County News was started, ran along about six months, till politics "got its goat." With a part of the same plant the Eagle was started in August 1907 and aside from missing a few months has been published weekly ever since. The East Kentucky News, started for political purposes in 1911 ran along until 1919 when it too was abandoned. The outfit, bought at heavy expense, is now owned by the Eagle.

Just last week we took Ran Polly and Jim Williams down into the Bullhole and left them there. We did not mean to do it. The truth is these men tied that cable around the dead bull's neck and he was pulled out. People who witnessed the extracting of the big brute say that when it reached the mouth of the entrance it was the longest animal they had ever seen. The reader can imagine a big bull tied by the head and horns dangling at the end of a rope. Polly and Williams were lifted from the hole also.

EDITORIALS

Senator Dycus, alleged Democrat whether justly or unjustly, went out with the blazing finger of scorn pointing at him. At this distance he looks like a Judas.

The Legislature adjourned yesterday. At closing hours Tuesday evening the $50,000,000 proposed Road Bond proposition was still tied in the hands of a committee. It has good chances to die there. Whether this bill was proper or not it could give the people of the state only an opportunity to say at the polls whether they wanted to build roads quick in Kentucky by the bonding route or in the long route by taxation.

Of the laws enacted we recall x x x x x x x.

Well certainly the time for farmers to hustle is now here. April is looking over the Eastern highways and bidding the demons of the icy North to back off and give way to spring. The birds and flowers are opening their drowsy eyes and the turtle dove has winked a time or two at his mate. So, there is no use for comment. Miss Spring is at the door knocking, and hustling time is here.

Soon as possible the Eagle will publish a synopsis of all the laws enacted by the Legislature during its session just ended.

Playing politics in State or National legislation, while it has always been done by all parties, is a bad idea. However, when the people get a whack at bad legislation they usually come back with heavy kicks. Political bodies do and the voters undo.

The coming spring and summer must see a number of things done in Whitesburg. Surely our good citizens have enough progressiveness, enough manliness about them to take matters in hand and see that the things are done. Overlooking the town, from the ground up it is rapidly becoming one of the prettiest little places so far as residences and business houses are concerned in the mountains. But what about the streets and round about everywhere else? Mud, MUD, MUD! and filth! It will take an earnest work to do it but properly, systematically and with no graft it can be done. Let's try again!

Next week we propose to write up in our "In Ye Olden Tyme" column about the creation and formation of Letcher county. In it we propose to give out some facts that will be good for the younger generations to preserve. There will soon be none left to record these facts.

It is with pride that we call attention to the vast amount of advertising in the Eagle these days. Foreign advertising has always been plentiful and now the live local business concerns are awakening to the fact that it pays to advertise.

"It's a fact, I'm feeling as fine now as I did when I was a boy. Not only has Tancal helped me, but my wife and children also it with splendid results. I can say from actual experience it is a great family medicine.

HOUSE STARTS DRY FIGHT

Bill for Nineteen Additional Federal Judges Drags Up Prohibition Controversy.

Washington, March 13.—A new fight, involving enforcement of prohibition, started in the Senate today with consideration of a bill to authorize 19 additional federal district judges. Democratic opponents of the bill immediately, upon its introduction, began opposing more judges, opposing the assignments proposed for the extra judges and others opposing a provision which, it was said, might place "dry" judges in "wet" states, or vice versa. The prohibition enforcement question was brought up by Senator Broussard, one of the leading opponents of the Volstead law. He said the bill's provision authorizing the chief justice of the United States to assign district judges to work in other than their own states might result in trials by judges who were "not in accord with the ideas of the community."

Senator Caraway said he had been approached by a man urging support of the bill and told that "the only excuse" for the assignment provision was to meet a situation, caused by refusal of certain judges to enforce the law.

His reply was addressed to W. K. Kavanagh, chairman of the joint council of operator associations, at present in Hot Springs, Ark.

32 SLAIN, 57 HURT IN AFRICAN REVOLT

WORKERS' HALL BOMBARDED

Nineteen Policemen Are Among Those Killed in Strike Battle.

Heaviest Casualties Suffered in Extreme Eastern Section of the Rand.—Proclamation of Martial Law.—27 Officials Injured.

Johannesburg, Union of South Africa, March 13.—Casualties in the fighting between the striking miners and police has reached 32 killed and 57 injured. Of the 32 killed 10 were policemen.

By 11 o'clock, however, the streets had become absolutely deserted, and the town was unannually quiet. The public was forbidden use of the streets.

The workers' hall at Benoni is reported to have been hit by a bomb dropped from an airplane. The heaviest casualties in the district are believed to have been suffered in the extreme eastern sections of the Rand. Bold moves by the striking miners, accompanied by fierce fighting between strikers, commandos and police, made yesterday one of terror in the Rand. Martial law eventually was proclaimed.

Manager Brodigan of the Brakpan mine, the center of much of the day's fighting, and two special constables were captured and taken out on the veldt and shot. Seven special constables, protecting the mine, were killed. Capture 27 Police.

The strikers also captured 27 policemen at Newlands, west of Johannesburg, where spirited fighting occurred, threatening to shoot them all if other police came to the rescue. At Fordsburg one man, of a commando, or force of burghers, was killed and 13 members and 4 policemen were wounded. The sound of artillery firing at Fordsburg was audible here.

With the proclamation of martial law and the seizure of the strikers' headquarters, where all documents were confiscated, the populace felt a sense of relief. The ministers of justice and defense have issued a statement denying reports of a contemplated native rising in the Rand. They assert there is no disposition on the part of the natives to give trouble. Meanwhile, military units are enrolling with remarkable speed and a Citizens' Protective league is being formed to run public services.

Firing started at Benoni early in the morning. Street fighting followed, both sides suffering casualties. Many pedestrians were hit. For two hours the ground between the Benoni market square and the workers' hall was a battle area; then the police formed with the object of surrounding the hall. There was continuous sniping and three persons fell dead, one of them a policeman.

News Men Fear Revolt. London, March 11.—The general strike called by the miners' leaders at Johannesburg is in reality a revolutionary movement, according to the Capetown correspondent of the Daily Telegraph. The strike issue has been eclipsed by the threat against the state, he says.

There was some speculation over Premier Smuts' delay in proclaiming martial law, which was regarded as gravely overdue, but it is understood he was actuated by fear that such a step would precipitate a conflict in which the strikers, who are mainly Dutch, might be re-enforced from the veldt.

The Johannesburg correspondent of the same newspaper reports that a number of Dutch farmers in the Boksburg and Benoni districts have joined the strikers and formed mounted commandos which attacked Benoni.

The Times' Johannesburg correspondent, on the other hand, ascribes the trouble to a widespread Boishievist plot, and says the Fordsburg commando regards itself as a red guard. He adds that the fighting is in progress throughout the Rand, the most severe trouble being in the eastern section. He believes that the police will soon gain the upper hand in Johannesburg and Benoni, but admits that, owing to the prevailing chaos, it is difficult to verify the various reports.

RADIO MUSIC ROUSES ACTORS

Equity Association Objects to Free Concerts Via Ether—Wants Performers Paid.

New York, March 13.—Appreciative but nonpaying wireless amateurs who have been sitting at home and listening to world-famous entertainers face an edict of the Actors' Equity association that such performers must be paid for their work. Announcement is made that the council of the association has ruled that the radiophone is competing with the theater and that those who talk or sing in the transmitting apparatus must be compensated. In the last few months there have been numberless free concerts, free stage performances, free lectures and other features supplied to the owners of radiophones. The ether waves carrying these entertainments have been picked up hundreds, even thousands, of miles distant by receiving "sets," which are as common as home-brew outdies.

Ce-re-a-lia Sweets

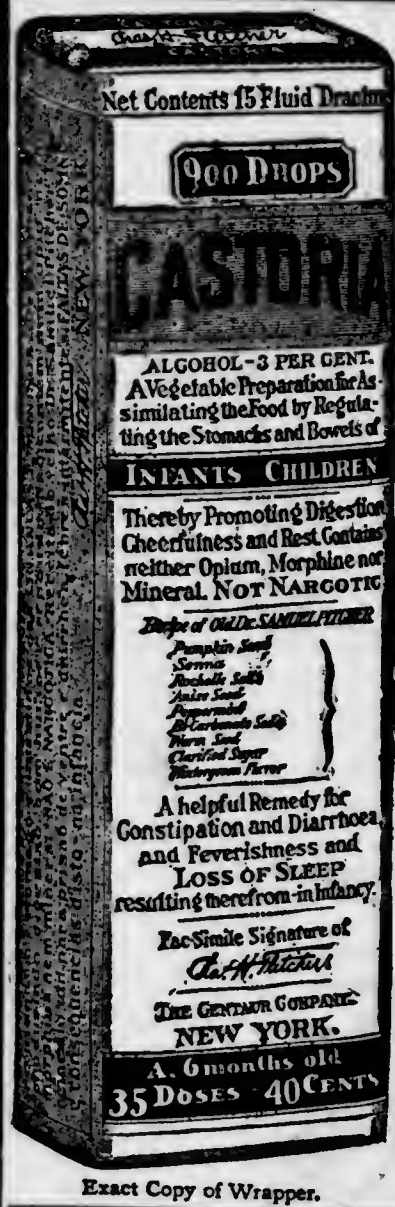

It Pays To Please Your Cows

The best feed in the world won't produce milk if your cows turn their nose away from it. Cows munch the last morsel of Ce-re-a-lia Sweets, not because of its "high protein" or its "guaranteed analysis," but because it tastes good. We could make up a ration with exactly the same percentages of protein, carbohydrates and fat without such a large pleasing variety of ingredients, without including appetizing molasses, and your cows would digest less, tire of its sameness, give less milk. Ce-re-a-lia won't lump or cake. Easy to handle. If you're feeding home-grown ground corn this year, feed Ce-re-a-lia Sweets along with it. Use the usual roughage.

Four Weeks' Trial At Our Risk
Feed one cow 4 weeks on Ce-re-a-lia Sweets and make us prove these two points: First, that you will get more milk or better milk. Second, that your actual profit will be greater; if Ce-re-a-lia costs more than you're paying now, the improvement in flow or test must more than make it up. Money back if either test fails. Ask us for details.

HUGHES ACCUSED IN PACT FIGHT

Senator Robinson, Declares the Secretary of State Deliberately Concealed Facts.

REFERS TO THE CONFERENCE

Continuous Sessions Are Planned in Order to Dispose of the Four-Power Treaty—Lodge May Try to Force Vote on Measure.

Washington, March 13.—Secretary of State Hughes was the storm center of another attack on the four-power Pacific treaty by its Democratic opponents in the senate. Hughes was accused by Senator Robinson of having "deliberately concealed from the American people and from their spokesmen, the representatives of the press, the secret negotiations leading up to the making of the treaty."

Robinson quoted a high official of the State department as having stated that who wrote the treaty "does not matter," and charged that "it must be plain to every one that it was the secretive secretary of state who was again refusing to divulge the real truth about the treaty."

"I have been informed that before the four-power treaty took us all by surprise by being suddenly thrust upon a plenary session of the arms conference, Mr. Hughes told a number of newspaper correspondents who waited on him at the State department that he knew nothing about any negotiations or any plan for such a treaty or for such an alliance as the treaty provides," Robinson said.

Defended by Lodge.
"It is inconceivable to me that Mr. Hughes made any such statement," Senator Lodge replied.

"Certainly the proposal for the four-power treaty was discussed by the American delegation even before the conference met. It was known to me and to my colleague, the senator from Alabama, that such a treaty was contemplated as a means of doing away with the Anglo-Japanese alliance."

"Ordinarily, who drafted a treaty is not material," said Robinson. "But when the question arises as to who is vitally interested in the terms of the instrument and whether all parties to the instrument were fully informed as to its real meaning and effect, then the conditions under which it was negotiated become of extreme importance."

Robinson also said that neither President Harding nor Secretary Hughes "thought of an alliance" when the conference was called.

"It was not in the mind of President Harding and it was not in the mind of Secretary Hughes when the conference was called that an alliance between Great Britain, Japan, France and the United States would be consummated," he said.

Senator Watson, Democrat of Georgia, interrupted with a reference to the knight of St. Arthur J. Balfour upon his return to England from the conference.

Continuous Sessions Planned.
Senator Lodge said that, starting at noon today, he intended to hold the senate in continuous session until the reservation to the four-power Pacific treaty proposed by Senator Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas, was disposed of.

The Robinson reservation is intended to provide against aggression by any of the powers signatory to the treaty against nations not parties to it.

Lodge intimated that it was his purpose to force a vote on the reservation, even though he had to keep the senate in session tonight. It was also announced that Senator Underwood would deliver a speech in defense of the treaty.

Princeton, Ind., March 13.—Fourteen men on trial here on charges of conspiracy in connection with the Francisco mine riots last June were found guilty by a jury and sentenced to 90 days' imprisonment and fined $100 and costs. The case was the outgrowth of alleged riotous acts by which many foreign-born miners and a mine official were forced to leave the Francisco coal district.

Auto Plunges Into Water.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 13.—Four persons, two young women and two youths, were drowned here when a small closed car ran through the open draw in the bridge between Anastasia Island and St. Augustine. The car went down in thirty feet of water with the occupants inside. Divers have been summoned from Jacksonville to assist in raising the machine. The boys, it was understood, were residents of St. Augustine, while the young women were hotel employees.

What Uncle Sam Says About Fertilizer Quality
"The difference between a good brand of fertilizer and a poor one lies not so much in the difference that may exist in the total amount of plant food contained in it as in the quality of the materials of which it is made." [U. S. Dept. of Agriculture]
